

Webinar: Dialogue on Sexual and Reproductive Health Rights of Indigenous Women, Girls, and Gender Diverse Communities Living with HIV in Nigeria

Friday, March 18th, 2022 15:00 – 16:30 Abuja/Geneva

In 2017, the WHO released a consolidated guideline on the sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) of women living with HIV, offering 73 recommendations and good practice statements to assist in the planning, development, monitoring and promotion of programs and services grounded in gender equality and human rights. Evidence from this report highlighted the inequitable access to quality health services for Indigenous women living with HIV and their disproportionate vulnerability to gendered violence and sexual and reproductive rights violations.

Webinar objectives:

- Discuss challenges and opportunities in advancing SRHR of Indigenous women living with HIV at local level
- Explore how to operationalize the guideline to support SRHR of Indigenous women living with HIV
